Maestro Technologies is a proud partner of this initiative

Varenes, January 29, 2018 – A technological leader within the construction industry, Maestro Technologies has been actively involved in promoting the use of technology, more specifically as main partner of the Batimatech event. Today, the organization strengthens its implication by combining its efforts with other tech industry stakeholders by becoming a Technopolys partner.

What is Technopolys?

Technopolys is the name given to the movement to promote Quebec's technology industry. This major collaborative project is being spearheaded by companies, universities, research centres, and associations in the information and communication technology (ICT) sector, under the umbrella of TechnoMontréal's Industry Promotion Working Group. Technopolys draws on the sense of pride within the industry and helps to:

- Increase knowledge about its contribution to Quebec's economy, the innovation ecosystem, and citizens' quality of life;
- Promote entrepreneurship, technology careers, and the teaching programs that lead to them;
- Increase international recognition for Quebec as a centre of digital innovation.
