

Analyst Programmer VB6

Reporting to the Team Leader, the position involves performing analysis and programming related to the ERP software with Visual Basic 6.0. The analyst programmer demonstrates leadership, strong analytical skills, and works towards optimizing how to process cases quickly, easily, and efficiently while maintaining the quality.

Specific Responsibilities:

- Identifies and analyzes the expressed needs and recommend possible solutions;
- Develops, implements, and maintains software applications;
- Optimizes and/or rewrites segments of an application;
- Updates the documentation according to established standards;
- Abides by the existing processes and quality metrics
- Collaborates and supports the management's and other departments' needs in project implementations;
- Contributes to the establishment of programming guidelines and standards;
- Engages in research required by the system's development and evolution as needed;
- Supervises projects as needed.

Requirements:

- Computer Science degree or equivalent experience;
- Minimum of 5 years of relevant programming experience including 3 years of ERP system analysis experience;
- Experience in ERP accounting system programming;
- Practical expertise and complete command of Visual Basic 6.0;
- Good knowledge of accounting and business processes;
- Knowledge of Visual Studio.Net (VB.NET and C#) an asset;
- Understanding of the target markets (construction industry) an asset;
- Excellent communication skills in French and English (oral and written);
- Excellent analytical, organizational and planning skills.